

Dive Alaska June 2013

ALASKA is stunning and spectacular. The diving is some of the best cold water diving in the world. And the animals topside are just as enthralling as the critters below surface; grizzly bears ambling along the beach, bald eagles more numerous than seagulls, humpback whales blowing right beside the back deck water level as you sip your morning coffee. This is the full meal deal that every diver should experience at least once.

Join us aboard the Nautilus Swell, a beautifully restored liveaboard dive vessel as it takes us on a picturesque and serene dive experience. Beautiful quiet, serene mornings relaxing on the covered back deck in a wicker couch with a cup of coffee in your hand. Seven staterooms all with private facilities. A high-speed, triple engine, 38 foot dive skiff whisking you to dive sites in the blink of an eye. And the same crew, exceptional service levels and attention to detail that the Nautilus Explorer is famous for. It's all in the small but important touches like setting your gear up in the skiff just once at the start of your trip, a single step up from the skiff to the main boat, a large multi-level camera table, a protected area out of the weather to gear up in your drysuit, a sparkling, clear hot-tub, individual heat controls in the cabins, kayaks, zodiac shore expeditions, and a hostess with hot drinks and snacks waiting for you after every dive.

From calving glaciers and climbing onto icebergs, bubblenet feeding humpback whales, eagles, grizzly bears, pulse pounding dives with Steller sea lions and giant octopus, impressive wrecks like the Princess Sophia and Princess Kathleen to walls that are so covered with brightly coloured corals there isn't a square inch you can touch. We invite you to join us.

Alaska is something every diver should experience. It doesn't matter if you have thousands of cold-water dives under your weight belt or have never been in a drysuit before. You need to experience this. The scenery is stunning and spectacular. The diving is some of the best diving in the world. And the animals topside are just as enthralling as the critters below surface; grizzly bears ambling along the beach, bald eagles more numerous than seagulls, humpback whales blowing right beside the back deck water level as you sip your morning coffee. This is the full meal deal from incredible diving, photo opportunities, kayaking and shore expeditions all the way through climbing up icebergs.

Trip Date: June 08, 2013 - June 18, 2013.
Trip Cost: $3695usd/person double occupancy. $4295 Single or Superior Suite

Trips typically board in either Juneau or Sitka with 2 departures each season from Ketchikan. Seattle is the gateway city with frequent and affordable connections, thru-fares and “open-jaw” tickets on Alaska Air. We can arrange this as a group or people can book on their own.

What is included?

- Diving, aluminum 80 tanks, and weight belts.
- Use of sea kayaks
- In-water divemastering and guiding with local experts
- Housekeeping service and nightly turndown service
- Daily room service and nightly turndown
- Bathrobe and towels
- Snacks, meals, and all non-alcoholic beverages (soda, juice, milk, water)

What is not included?

- Alcoholic beverage selections off our extensive wine list, micro brew beer and assorted liquors
- Nitrox, argon, gas mixes.
- Rebreather support, chemicals and specialized tank rentals.
- 100 cubic foot steel tanks
- Any gift shop purchases
- Crew gratuities.

A 15% Deposit is required to hold your spot. Deposits are non refundable. Sign up today for the experience of a lifetime.